1 Introductions and welcome

Jo Osorio welcomed everyone and introduced BSW chief digital officer, Angela Parratt. A list of attendees had been circulated. The session followed on well from the patient participation group forum held that morning where there had been discussion about making online appointments and request repeat prescriptions.

2 Draft digital strategy

- Angela spoke to slides which had been circulated in advance. She explained that the draft strategy was aspirational and had already shrunk a little.
- In response to a query about the logic of including Swindon with BaNES and Wiltshire she explained that this was a directive from the NHS centrally.
- There were questions and subsequent discussion about the relationship with and between this strategy, NHS App and Systmonline (used by all Swindon GP practices).
- There were comments and discussion about the use of and access to digital systems and media by older and younger people; and whether people preferred online or face to face contact (Kooth being an example of an online support service for people aged 11-19 and doctorlink for access to “trusted medical advice and GP services”)
- Angela referred to work underway to improve joined up systems and working including the Local Health and Care Records initiative through, in our case, One South West. (post event notes: see article here and item 100/18 in this CCG meeting note here)

3 Feedback on participants' priorities

Following the presentation, participants were invited to prioritise from their individual perspective, a number of potential ways that technology might be used. (see below)

14 participants scored in importance (total score shown). Max=84

GP practices - access your GP using the NHS App to book appointments, set donor preferences, reorder repeat prescriptions, get online triage services and appointments over Skype/telephone 79

Introduce technologies that are easy for people and healthcare staff to use 79

Information about you is shared between health and care providers so that in time, wherever you are in the country, information, images and results can be accessed by clinical & care staff (where they need to have access) 78

Reducing the need to refer you to hospital by offering GPs more access to hospital specialists over the telephone, whilst you are with them 71

Use data to spot where there are problems or spikes in the system that lets staff know before things become overloaded 70

Use people's information so we can better predict what services are needed, for what, where and when 70

Develop shared care plans - for example for end of life or mental health crisis that can be used by all health and care staff and be accessed by you 69

Single maternity system used across BaNES, Swindon and Wiltshire and specialist advice Apps from birth to age 16 for parents and carers 68

Introduce personal health care records - Apps with people's health and care records on their own device 68

Contact patients more through text, email and the NHS App rather than letters through the post 64

Increase number of apps that can be used for health advice and support for example to help self-manage conditions, and use advice such as the NHS website to reduce their risks - approved Apps on the NHS App store 63

Introduce more automated services in health settings such as GP surgeries, to free up doctors' time 63

Outpatient appointments - more appointments over Skype and telephone, less travel for you 60

Save money by buying at scale and buy more of the same things so that you have a more consistent experience across the BaNES, Swindon and Wiltshire 60
